Air Force And Navy Bombers Strike N. Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two Buddhist nuns and a novice monk burned themselves to death today bringing to nine the number of Buddhist self-immolations to protest South Viet Nam's military government.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Air Force and Navy yesterday mounted their biggest raids on North Viet Nam since Sunday, sending hundreds of jet fighter-bombers to pound the north in 88 missions. Two planes were reported lost, bringing to nine the number of American planes reported shot down this week.

On the ground, troops of the elite South Korean Tiger Division took on the Viet Cong in fierce hand-to-hand fighting near the coastal city of Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of Saigon. A Korean spokesman said 119 Viet Cong had been killed, but later changed the figure to 70.

The suicides took place despite public exhortations from Buddhist leaders to the rank and file to stop the fiery suicides which were a factor in the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963.

There were seven suicides over a five-month period during the Buddhist campaign to topple Diem.

Ratify Contract

ALPENA (AP) — Five carpenter locals of the Northwest Michigan Council Friday night ratified a two-year contract which calls for wage increases totaling 90 cents an hour. The council includes 20 counties.

Arrest Senator In Morals Case

LANSING (AP) — A State Senator was arrested and stood mute Friday on charges he solicited a Michigan State University coed to have sexual relations and pose for nude pictures.

Sen. Bernard O'Brien, 31, a Detroit Democrat, was arraigned at Lansing Township Justice Court and released on $100 cash bond. Trial was set for July 28, five days before the primary election in which O'Brien is seeking renomination for his legislative seat.

Although he refused to comment to newsmen, O'Brien was heard to utter the word "frame" as he talked to a fellow senator while leaving the capitol. O'Brien was arrested on two misdemeanor counts, each of which could be punishable by up to 90 days in jail and a $100 fine. It was issued by the Ingham County prosecutor upon the complaint of a 22-year-old blonde, Marion Lukens, a senior from Santa Ana, Calif.

Prosecutor Donald Reisig said the arrest resulted from an intensive three-week investigation by MSU police and state police of reported incidents of vulgar telephone calls and attempts to

Senator O'Brien

"accost and solicit" coeds on the campus in nearby East Lansing.

"Miss Lukens is no publicity seeker," Reisig said. "She did what she felt had to be done to protect women."

Contacted by telephone at her dormitory, Miss Lukens expressed surprise when told that a senator had been arrested in the case.

"That wasn't the name he gave me," she commented, "but I guess he wouldn't give me his right name."

State Trooper Killed In Crash

CLIFFORD (AP) — A State Police trooper was killed and another injured Friday when their car struck a freight train at a crossing on M38 in Clifford.

Killed was Robert Corkins, 35, of the Romeo State Police post. His companion was Laird Keft, 23, of Grand Haven, also stationed at the Romeo post. Keft was reported in fair condition at Marlette Hospital.

State police said the men were off duty and riding in a private car when the accident occurred.

Romney Recommends Two Years Service For All Young People

Bethany, W. Va. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney recommended today that every American be encouraged to give two years of his life between ages 18 and 30 to military or wholly voluntary service.

Romney told the graduating class of Bethany College in a prepared speech that a volunteer-oriented program could be devised which would be more equitable than either universal military service or a choice between compulsory military and compulsory civilian service.

He declared that "military service must be put on a just basis," but he did not go in to specifics of what would be just.

Recent remarks by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara have stirred controversy over whether civilian service could substitute for military duty for some persons. McNamara has talked of possible substitutes.

Painters Agree On Wage Rates

ALPENA (AP) — Painters Union 1737 reached agreement today with three Alpena contractors on a new wage schedule. The painters had struck Wednesday to support their demands.

The one-year agreement carries a 25-cent hourly increase for residential painters, raising them to $3.25 per hour. New commercial rates will range from $4.00 to $4.50 and industrial from $4.10 to $5.10.

Offers To Sell Life And Free Child Of Debt

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A 50-year-old man today offered to sell his life for scientific research for $16,000 so that his daughter would be free of debts he has accumulated over his lifetime.

Under Italian law, children are responsible for debts of deceased parents.

"At the age of 50 I have decided to end a life that I regard as absurd and impossible to continue," the man said in a letter to Milan newspapers.

"I want to profit by my irreversible decision in order to clear some debts which, left unresolved, could gravely harm those very persons who more than anyone else I want to help. I am therefore putting my life on sale, the life of a man discreetly sane, under fixed terms."

The writer gave his name and address to the newspapers but asked them to print only his initials — L.B. — "In order to avoid adverse repercussions for other persons with the same name."

Separated From Wife

The man described himself as a former director of documentary films and said he had recently been a store display decorator in Paris. He said he has been separated from his wife for some time and that their daughter is 22.

The letter continued: "There is certainly no lack of experiments which would require the destruction of a human life in order to win the certainty of saving many other lives. In all awareness and serenity I declare myself disposed to be the object of such experimentation."

"I have committed no crime but have reached my decision because of an extreme personal self-discipline. I am disposed to go to any country in the world for this end."

Pay Daughter

L.B. said the $16,000 was not to be made payable to himself but to his daughter after his death.

He said he hoped no would-be benefactor would come forward with the idea of giving him the money for not ending his life.

"That would be the final vain gesture of a person who understands nothing about himself and even less about me," he said.

The man said he is living at a hotel in Varese. One newspaper verified this. Neither the newspapers nor the Milan police would say whether anything was being done to dissuade the man.

U. S. May Curb Wheat Export; Surplus Gone

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of rationing wheat for foreign markets faces U.S. farm officials who have seen a huge grain surplus disappear much more quickly than they had dreamed possible.

Reserve and surplus supplies of wheat which reached a record 1,411,000,000 bushels on July 1, 1961, will drop to $55 million bushels below what farm officials have said is a safe reserve for emergencies, including drought.

Furthermore, there is a possibility that the reserve a year from now may drop to 350 million bushels. This possibility led Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to tell a news conference Friday that the government would restrict exports should that become necessary to assure Americans ample supplies.

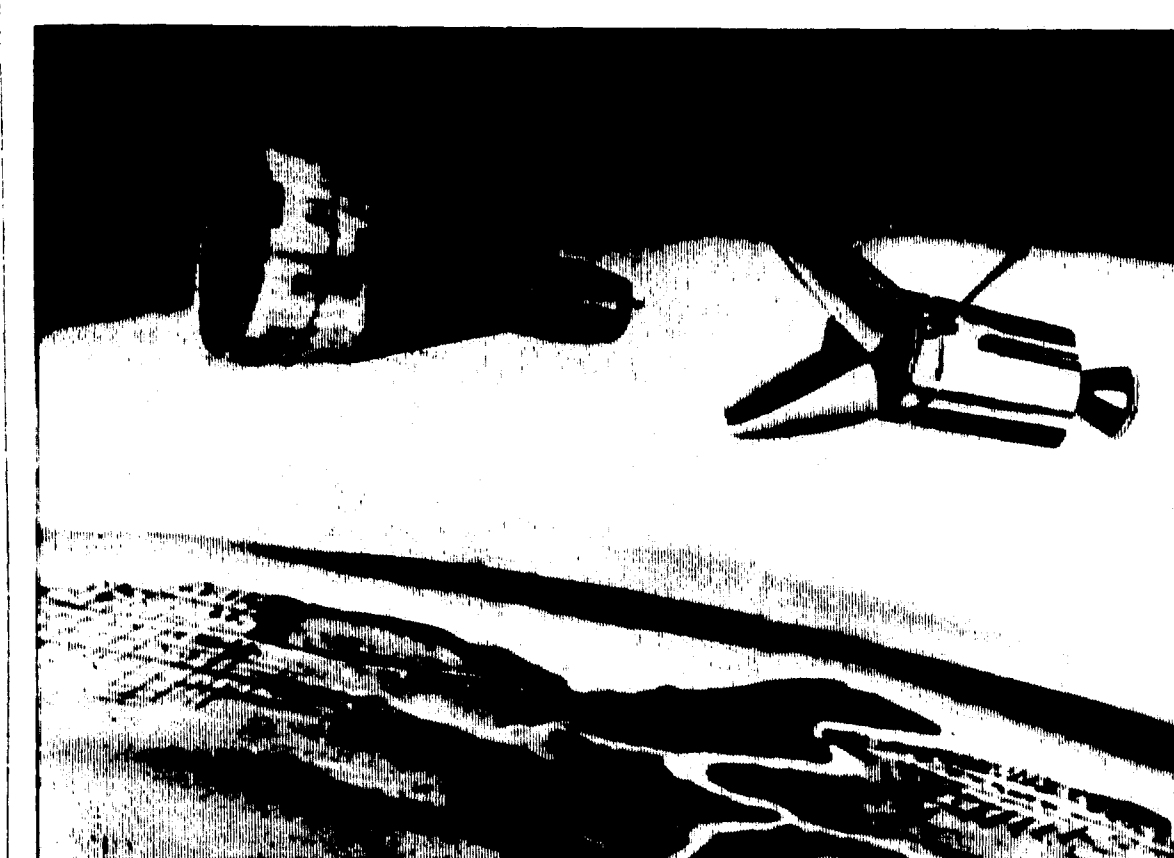

Despite the dwindling wheat surplus, there is no likelihood of a shortage which would put a pinch on American bread supplies. A sharp drop in the safe reserves could be countered with increased planting quotas.

It would take a massive crop emergency — such as an acute and prolonged drought — to bring any wheat shortage down to the level of American dinner tables.

Honor Rabbi

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Raymond Baker, R-Farmington, has introduced a resolution to designate a portion of I-696 as Adler Memorial highway in memory of the late Rabbi Morris Adler. Rabbi Adler died of gunshot wounds after being shot while conducting services at Southfield.

Astronauts Abandon Shrouded Satellite

ARTIST'S SKETCH depicts how Gemini 9 astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan rendezvoused in space Friday with their target. The alligator-like jaws on target form a shroud which prevented docking. The astronauts brought Gemini 9 within 10 feet of target but didn't get closer because of danger that the shroud might break away and hit their spaceship. The astronauts were to try for another rendezvous today. (AP Wirephoto)

May and June Draft Calls Up By 9,500 Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without announcing it, the Defense Department hiked its May and June draft calls by a total of 9,500 men.

The Pentagon acknowledged this today in response to questions, but described the increases as routine revision made because Army volunteer enlistments were less than anticipated.

In fact, figures provided by the department showed that it has had to amend each of its monthly manpower requests to the Selective Service for the past 10 months. Three major changes were publicly announced. A fourth, a 5,000-man cutback in the February call, was not disclosed.

Other unannounced draft call changes appeared minor, ranging from a 1,000-man reduction in the January request for 38,260, to an increase of 1,900 over last November.

The Defense Department adjusts its draft call according to the number of expected volunteer enlistments, which have met about 65 per cent of the requirements for new enlistees in fiscal 1966. But volunteer enlistments fluctuate.

"Since the beginning of the Viet Nam buildup," the Pentagon said, "enlistments have varied considerably from the normal monthly pattern, which has made forecasts of month-to-month changes particularly difficult."

The Defense Department said the Selective Service has cooperated fully in attempting to revise draft deliveries to meet changing conditions.

Surveyor Sends Nearly 2,000 Moon Pictures

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — America's television camera on the moon—Surveyor 1—nearly the 2,000 mark today in its transmissions of lunar photographs over a quarter-million miles of space.

"They're very pretty pictures," said a pleased spokesman at Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, the receiving station for the 620-pound spacecraft, which made a soft landing on the moon Thursday.

So far, about a dozen of the black and white photographs have been released for publication. Surveyor's 10-foot-tall television camera, mounted on a tripod, swivels in a full circle. The camera can look at the craft's padded feet, the lunar surface and the distant horizon.

Apparently, because of its position, it will be unable to photograph the earth, scientists say.

The camera draws its power from a panel that converts sunlight into electricity. It will cease functioning when the two-week lunar day ends and the moon's night shuts off its sunlight power.

Walk In Space Is Postponed For 24 Hours

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Hard luck plagued the Gemini 9 astronauts again today as they abandoned their "angry alligator" satellite and had Eugene A. Cernan's space walk postponed 24 hours until Sunday.

The fatigue of the astronauts and excessive use of fuel during a tricky rendezvous with the satellite early today contributed to the latest troubles.

"We're pretty well bushed," command pilot Thomas P. Stafford reported after the exhausting chase of the satellite.

"It raises a question in my own mind whether and when the EVA (space walk) should be done. Perhaps we should wait until tomorrow morning."

The Mission Control Center in Houston, Tex., agreed and put the walk off until Sunday morning. The 2½-hour walk, longest ever attempted, had been scheduled for 10:30 a.m. today.

Ground controllers then made an effort to shake loose the hung-up shroud on the target satellite by firing its control thrusters.

That started the satellite bucking and pitching, but it failed to dislodge the jaw-like clammings of the shroud, which covers the docking collar.

Full Away

With all hope of linking up with the satellite — called an ATDA for augmented target docking adapter — gone, the ground told Stafford and Cernan to fire their thrusters and gradually pull away from it.

The Gemini 9 flight has been jinxed since May 17 when the original Agena target satellite failed to reach orbit because its Atlas booster failed.

Two postponements later, the astronauts finally got off the ground Friday in pursuit of the makeshift ATDA. They caught it in record time—and learned to their disappointment that the shroud was still on, hung up by a few wires.

Plans Reshuffled

Because they were unable to dock, the flight plan was reshuffled to give the ground a chance to perhaps figure out a way to shake the shroud loose.

The main change was to move up two rendezvous maneuvers that had been planned for after Cernan's space walk.

The first was effectively executed without the use of radar.

Then, during the night, Gemini 9 moved out about 92 miles in front of the ATDA while Stafford and Cernan got eight hours of light, dozing sleep.

They were up about 2 a.m. (EDT) to begin the third rendezvous. They approached the ATDA from above, simulating a rescue of two astronauts who have started a descent to the moon and for some reason decide not to touch down. In such a case, a third astronaut in lunar orbit in the main Apollo ship would have to drop down to pick them up.

The rendezvous, which took them to within three feet of the 11-foot target, took more time and about 50 pounds more fuel than anticipated.

Fuel Runs Low

That left them with only about 50 pounds of their original 684.7 pounds of maneuvering fuel.

Flight controller Clifford Charlesworth reported, "Some unexpected things happened in the third rendezvous which we must understand for the lunar abort. Although the computer was working correctly, Tom was not satisfied with the numbers he was getting."

"The crew chose to go with their hand calculation, instead of the computer. Another factor was the inability to see the target from above, until they got to within a range of three miles."

On the fatigue of the astronauts, Charlesworth said: "They did do a complex rendezvous. They proved their on-board and back-up checks worked. I don't think it's a question that they were bushed. I think he (Stafford) looked ahead for several tough hours of EVA."

Astronaut Neil A. Armstrong, who piloted Gemini 8 in March, said: "It is the responsibility of a command pilot to make such a decision (when he feels he is biting off more than he can chew)."

Johnson Proposes To Up Security Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson Friday proposed a blanket increase in Social Security benefits for all those on the rolls now and those who will be in the future. He mentioned no specific figures.

Johnson said he has directed Secretary of Welfare John Gardner to have a program for increased benefits ready for the next session of Congress.

And the President promised the increases would have "a high and major priority."

He made no mention of how the increases would be financed.

Johnson's pledge to strive for higher Social Security benefits was made in a White House speech to delegates to a convention of the National Council of Senior Citizens.

Johnson told the delegates that while he has signed into law increases of more than $1.5 billion a year in Social Security benefits, "too many of our older citizens are still struggling along on shoestring incomes, suffering real hardship and real need."

Fund Director

LANSING (AP) — Zulton Ferry, Democratic candidate for governor, says he has appointed Sherwood Colburn as his fundraising director. Ferry's Republican opponent is Gov. George Romney, who is favored to win reelection to a third term. Colburn is a former state insurance commissioner. His post as finance director of the Ferry for governor committee is unsalaried.

Consumers Asks Right To Build Nuclear Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers Power Co. Friday applied to the Atomic Energy Commission for authorization to build its Palisades nuclear power station on the Lake Michigan shore south of South Haven, Mich.

The application stated the project is to be completed not later than September, 1970 and that initial operation of the plant is to produce approximately 700,000 kilowatts of electric energy.

AEC procedure calls for a hearing to be scheduled after staff study of the proposal.

Consumers announced last January its plans to build the power station, the second nuclear plant in its system. The first, the Big Rock Point station near Charlevoix, has been in operation since 1962.

Croatian Lodge Marks 60th Anniversary Here

Croatian Lodge 335 of Escanaba will mark its 60th anniversary Sunday with a dinner program tribute to Mirko Skradski of Escanaba, the only living charter member of the lodge.

Serving will be from 4 to 7 p. m. at the Lodge, 1422 Sheridan Rd.

Skradski, 82, was one of 123 charter members of Escanaba Lodge in 1906. He served as president for 40 years and three times was elected delegate from Escanaba to the National Convention, in 1909 in Calumet, 1932 in Gary, Ind., and 1943 in Chicago.

Mirko Skradski was born in Breznik - Croatia, Yugoslavia, Oct. 11, 1884. He came to the United States in 1900 when he was 16 years old and joined Croatian Lodge 198 in Cleveland in 1902.

He later moved to Hermansville and was a member of Hermansville Lodge 259 until he came to Escanaba to help found Lodge 335 in 1906. The Escanaba Lodge currently has 342 members in the senior organization and 144 in its junior membership under the leadership of Mrs. Steve Marvic.

The Croatian Hall was built in 1911 and was enlarged to its present size in 1937. Trees planted by Skradski still stand outside the building.

Most Croatian people came to America when they were 17 or 18 years old, hoping to earn money to return to their homes to provide homes for the girls they were engaged to marry.

Mirko Skradski

The people who came to the Upper Peninsula and Escanaba area were primarily from the farmlands about eight to 15 miles from Zagreb, which prior to World War I was in an empire called Austria-Hungary—later named Yugoslavia.

As a result of the Allied victory in World War I, however, several national states arose, out of the ruins of the Austro-Hungarian empire. One of the states was the Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes—later named Yugoslavia.

Work Long Hours Despite the new nation and the harassment of being considered "Hunkies" and second-class citizens, the Croats after World War I were tired of returning to their native land and accepted the United States as their home country. As word reached Europe that jobs were plentiful, more people followed the leaders to the United States.

Men worked day and night (12-hour shifts) and the local boarding house could sleep 28 men in 10 rooms because they rotated beds. Every family kept at least one boarder.

The Croatian Lodge was founded as sort of a protective agency and one of its primary functions through the home office in Pittsburgh was providing minimum benefits to families in case of death. Through the years, however, the Lodge has been refined until today its primary purpose is to preserve the culture of the land and educate the children.

Taught Songs Children are taught songs of the native land and the various village dances to acquaint them with culture of their ancestors.

The program Sunday will include Croatian food, as well as singing of songs and dancing.

Current president of the Croatian Lodge is Donald Marvic.

CAA Jobs Go To 2,000 In War On Poverty

Almost 2,000 sub-professional jobs in Michigan's Community Action Agencies are filled as of this month by residents of the hard core poverty target areas, according to Arthur W. Saltzman, director of the Michigan Economic Opportunity Office.

Sub - professionals perform routine assignments that are an essential part of the CAA program such as counselors, aides and trainees, area workers, neighborhood organizers, research aides, homemaker aides, etc.

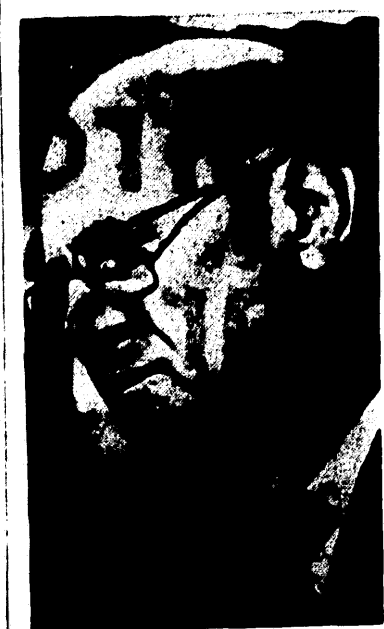

"Of these workers, 20 per cent had been earning less than $3,000 annually, 67 per cent were unemployed, and 12 per cent were on ADC and welfare rolls," Saltzman said. "Seventy-five per cent of the workers are women."

This employment has provided $6.5 million in personal income for sub-professional workers, or one-third of the original $19 million allocated to the CAA Program by the Economic Opportunity Act.

There are 245 sub-professional CAA jobs in Michigan still to be filled. These figures do not include the Head Start and Medicare programs.

Soo Bridge Gain SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—The International Bridge Authority announced Friday that 55,822 vehicles crossed the span linking Michigan and Ontario in May, a gain of six per cent over the similar 1965 month. The crossings raised the bridge's total to date to 2,813,163.

Doctors Book Noted Surgeon

Dr. Homer Stryker

Dr. Homer Stryker, Kalamazoo orthopedic surgeon, is one of the featured speakers for the convention of the Upper Peninsula Medical Society to be held at Iron Mountain June 16-18. Two full days of meetings with panel discussions and outstanding medical men as speakers will follow. Among the speakers will be Gov. George Romney on Friday night.

Sessions will be divided between the Dickinson Hotel and the Pine Grove Country Club. Dr. W. H. Huron, of Iron Mountain, is president of the Upper Peninsula Medical Society.

A native of Athens, Mich., Dr. Stryker is a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery and a member of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons. He has been a member of the Staff of Bronson Methodist Hospital and Borgess Hospital of Kalamazoo since 1928.

Perhaps the greatest extra-professional success of his career has been in the invention, design, and manufacture of orthopedic instruments and hospital equipment. The Stryker turning frames and rubber heels for walking casts were developed during his residency at Ann Arbor. The research for improvement in orthopedic instruments and hospital equipment was continued in Kalamazoo. Among the better known products developed, was the electric cast cutter with an oscillating saw blade and the electro surgical unit which powers various types of saws, drills, screwdrivers and osteotomes used in bone surgery. Among other products which have proven to be useful, the most recent is the circOlectric red.

Made In State LANSING (AP)—Instruments made in Michigan played a role Thursday in the picture taking of the Surveyor spacecraft on the moon. Abrams Instrument Corp. of Lansing produced the mirror elevation motor systems for the television camera.

Obscene Phone Calls Traced By New Techniques

Should you be the victim of obscene and harassing phone calls you can turn for help to a couple of friends—the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and your local police department.

Thomas J. Straebel, Escanaba manager, said Michigan Bell is deeply concerned with the increase in the number of such calls and that the company is Steps which customers can take to cope with abusive calls also were outlined by Straebel. "Should you or your family receive obscene, harassing phone calls, don't talk. What the caller really wants is an audience. Don't be that audience and don't listen to his abuse," Straebel said.

"Hang up whenever a caller uses obscenity, doesn't properly identify himself, or says nothing. Use the telephone on your terms to guard against these invasions of your privacy."

In most instances, the customer can solve the problem by not talking, or by hanging up, Straebel cautioned.

Fine And Jail If the obscene, harassing calls persist, customers are urged to call their telephone company business office.

If the nature of the calls is in violation of the state law, the individual may want to sign a complaint so that action can be taken by the appropriate law enforcement agencies.

Michigan law provides up to 90 days in jail and $100 in fines for making obscene, harassing calls. In addition, the telephone company is permitted to disconnect or remove the phone service of anyone proved to be making obscene or harassing calls.

Escanaba Police Chief Harold Finman had this reassuring word for persons who are the victims of the anonymous phone calls—seldom are the calls threatening in nature and almost never does the caller "have the guts to come out in the open and confront the person he has called."

Nothing To Fear The police here receive an average of two or three complaints a week from persons who have been annoyed by anonymous phone calls. "There are more than this number of anonymous calls, of course, but many people never make a complaint to the police," Finman said.

The most frequent type of anonymous call is from an individual who does not speak—he just listens or breathes heavily to the annoyance and sometimes fright of the person on the other end of the line. He keeps calling back to harass his victim.

The caller who mouths obscenities may frighten and disturb girls and women—but they have nothing to fear from this weird character, said the police chief.

Blow A Whistle

Persons who are being annoyed by odd-ball phone callers might keep a shrill whistle alongside the telephone, suggests Police Chief Harold Finman.

"Blow a loud blast into the mouthpiece the next time you get a call from the pest who won't give his name or makes obscene remarks," the chief said. "Then hang up."

If you are the victim of repeated anonymous calls, notify the police and the Telephone Co.

stepping up its efforts to protect customers against them. In a concerted attack on the problem, Straebel said, the company is using new equipment and developing new techniques to identify the calling number of anyone making obscene or crank calls.

Among the new devices is one which has the capability of "locking in" on a call. In some cases, it can lead to identification of the calling telephone line even after the person who made the call has hung up.

Just Hang Up In addition, Straebel said, the phone company has set up new procedures for the handling of complaints of such calls at each of its business offices throughout the state. In each office specially trained service representatives have been assigned to handle the complaints.

Students, Parents Get Band Preview

Three hundred fifth grade students and parents were given a preview of the summer band program at the Junior High School by Escanaba Area band director John Chown and assistant director David Laakso.

The summer program begins Monday, June 13. Demonstrations of various instruments were given by Laakso's junior high musicians, while Chown discussed the benefits and importance in education of participating in the band program. A question and answer session followed the planned program.

Eight Ordered For Induction

Eight Delta County men have been ordered by the Selective Service office, 1103 Ludington St., to report at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday for induction into the U. S. Army.

An additional 30 men will report for pre-induction examinations. The men will be taken to Milwaukee examination center via charter bus. Pre-inductees will return Wednesday.

Called for induction are Gary R. DeGrave, Rapid River, leader of the group; Richard J. Morin, Carl M. Olson of Escanaba; Edward J. Cook and William J. Foster of Gladstone; Richard W. Tyni and Robert L. Maki of Rock, and Leonard Skrobaki of Bark River. Foster's orders have been transferred to Pontiac.

Ordered to report for pre-induction are: Escanaba—Lee H. Finman, leader of the group; Thomas G. Butler, Dennis J. O'Donnell, Kenneth C. Swanson, James R. Peterson, Robert J. DeGrand, James R. Trotter, David S. Canavera, John M. McCarthy, Roy A. Henderson, Keith R. Buckland, Richard F. Boyer, Richard M. LaCrosse;

Gladstone—Randell J. Morneau, James L. Ross, Patrick L. Sinclair, Otto J. Swanson; Garden—Larry P. Farley, Thomas M. Tatrow, Roy J. Steliwagan; Rapid River—Frank R. Wnuck, Richard D. Cayer; Bark River—Kenneth J. Flath; Cornell—Robert A. Buckland; Rock—Allen F. Salmi.

Also ordered to report are Barry J. Andrews, Escanaba, transferred to Ann Arbor; Michael R. Boyle, Escanaba, transferred to Minneapolis; Minn.; David C. Johnson, Escanaba, transferred to Dearborn; Douglas M. Koehler, Gladstone, transferred to Milwaukee; Edward J. Clausen, Gladstone, transferred to Ann Arbor.

Mary M. Wagner, clerk of Delta County Board 21, said July calls of 10 men for induction and 23 men for pre-induction are being processed and orders for men selected will be mailed in the near future. Inductees next month will report July 6. Pre-inductees will report July 1.

It is estimated that between 10 and 20 per cent of stolen cars are never recovered.

There's No 'Tire' In Pedersen's Retirement

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Peder Pedersen of Stonington, who is 77 this year, has led such an active and busy life that when he retires from his store this week he will have more time to devote to his farming enterprise, including 24 head of beef cattle and 25 acres in oats; and the management of his resort development, Lit-L-Noc Scenic Shores.

The Pedersen store, Lit-L-Noc Cash Market and gas station, located 11 miles south of U.S. 41 on County Road 513, has been purchased by his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lund. They have moved to Stonington from Santa Maria, Calif.

Lund was born in Gladstone and Mrs. Lund is the former Helen Pedersen.

Peder Pedersen

Is Technician
The Lunds lived in Tucson, Ariz., for two years and then resided in Santa Maria for the past six years, where he was employed as a calibration technician by Convair Astronautics at Vandenberg Air Base. Convair designed the Atlas missiles and developed techniques that helped speed around the world the target satellites with which Gemini 9 proposes to connect.

Before moving to Tucson, Lund operated a TV and radio repair shop in Gladstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Lund have one son, Ensign Gerald C. Lund, a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin, who is now completing the Naval Aviation program at Pensacola, Fla. He expects to receive his Navy wings in August this year.

The store at Stonington, which Pedersen established about 12 years ago, is to be enlarged with an addition of 1,800 square feet this summer.

Wets And Dries
Pedersen gets a chuckle out of the fact that he is—or was—the proprietor of a store that held an SDM (Specially Designated Merchant) license for the sale of alcoholic beverages.

For it was back in 1918 at the close of World War I that Pedersen gained his first experience in local government. He was elected Bay de Noc Township clerk and then served as township supervisor for one term.

"That was when there was local option and Stonington voted dry," Pedersen recalled. "I was with the dries and the wets tried their best to get me out of office, and the vote was close—I won by one vote."

Born at Stonington on Jan. 9, 1890, Pedersen is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter O. Pedersen. Both were Norwegians. His mother was Cecelia Skaug, a sister of the Skaug brothers—Elias, Kristian, Andrew M. and Hans—who were among Delta County's more successful pioneers.

Active In Politics

Peder's initial victories as a township officer encouraged a continuing interest in government affairs.

He served on the Delta County Board of Supervisors, representing his township, from 1948 to 1964; he was township treasurer "two or three times"; was a candidate for Delta County treasurer; was a trustee of the School Board; and joined in local affairs for the improvement and development of the community.

Pedersen was master of the Bay de Noc Grange—once a power in the land—for many years. It was the Grange, incidentally, that saved the old Peninsula Point lighthouse from destruction. The old lighthouse was abandoned and the government was going to tear it down brick by brick.

Given Recognition

He has held many responsible positions in the Trinity Lutheran Church at Stonington, including secretary, trustee, and Sunday School superintendent for many years. Whenever there was a project for the community welfare under way, Peder was there to give it his support.

In 1955 the folks at Stonington gathered at the Community Hall to honor the man who "could always find time to do a job which will benefit his neighbors." Pedersen said that the work that was done could not have been accomplished except by the willing hands of the people themselves.

Pedersen in his "retirement" will continue to work the farm where a family of six children was raised. They are Mrs. Lund, who with her husband are taking over the store; Mrs. John (Margaret) Grases of Milwaukee; Mrs. Forrest (Emily) Wells of Anchorage, Alaska; and three sons, Merrill of Milwaukee, Kenneth of Stonington and Orville at home.

Mrs. Pedersen died 23 years ago. There are 13 grandchildren.

Warm Weather Helps Fishing

HERMANVILLE — Warm weather has increased fishing activity in the North Menominee County area.

Perch fishing with worms and minnows on Hermansville Lake has produced catches up to 14 inches. Northern pike fishing has been good on the Menominee River near the Chalk Hills area.

Trout fishing also is improved with limit catches reported by Edward LeMaide of Hermansville, his son Larry of Menominee and son-in-law Clem Madalinski. The Pemenee, DeHass and Harter creeks near Faithorn and the Vega Creek north of Hermansville have produced best results.

Bark River

WCSA Meets

The Women's Society of Christian Service will meet Tuesday, June 7, at 8 p.m. in the Bark River Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wangerin of Stephenson, parents of Mrs. Richard Hendra of Harris, will show slides with commentary on their recent trip to Russia and Czechoslovakia. Also on the program will be Howard Fritz, Escanaba, who will sing two numbers, "It is No Secret" and "Precious Lord, Take My Hand" and accompany himself on the guitar. He has had twelve years experience as a radio singer. Hostesses are Mrs. Bertyl R. Erickson and Mrs. Arthur Fournier. Everyone is cordially invited to attend Tuesday's meeting.

The Executive Board of St. George Rosary met Thursday evening in the Parish Hall to discuss a number of projects. The annual summer picnic will not be held July 17 as previously planned because of a conflict of activities. The annual fall dinner and bazaar is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 23, in the parish hall.

Congressman Is Candidate

Clevenger Will Cite Record In 2nd Campaign

Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger announced his candidacy for re-election in Michigan's 11th District at a meeting Friday night in the Hotel Northland, Marquette.

He pledged "an aggressive, hard-hitting campaign, based on my record in Congress," and appealed for support "from all who believe in the goal of the President Johnson's Great Society and who have seen how the 11th District has benefitted from the great social and economic programs launched by the 89th Congress."

Declaring that Michigan's North Country has "turned the corner, away from despair and depression and is moving confidently forward toward economic improvement and greater personal opportunity," Clevenger declared, "But we still have a long way to go, and with your help, we will get there."

He described the 11th District as "a state within a state" that comprises one third of the land area of Michigan. It is larger in size than nine of the 50 states and it has more people than four of the states.

"It has been an honor and a privilege to serve this unique and challenging district in the most productive Congress in history," he said. "I ask you for the opportunity to continue this exciting and important assignment."

Clevenger, a Democrat, will be 40 years old Monday. He is a Sault Ste. Marie attorney.

He was graduated from the University of Michigan Law School, and formerly practiced law in the Soo with Paul L. Adams, now a Michigan Supreme Court justice, and James J. Fenlon, now municipal judge in the Soo. He served from 1961 to 1963 as corporation and securities commissioner for Michigan.

Clevenger and his wife, the former Francine M. Corbat of Oxford, Mich., have five children.

Clevenger's announcement statement said:

"Two years ago I pledged an aggressive campaign, based on the issues and the record of the Republican incumbent.

"I said I would fight vigorously for the 11th District in Congress, and that I would come home frequently to report to you on my activities and to consult with you on the programs needed to bring the 11th District back into the mainstream of the American economy. During the five months remaining in this campaign I will report in detail how I have tried to keep these promises.

"I have had the opportunity to help enact into law such badly needed long desired programs as Medicare, aid to elementary and secondary schools, strengthening of our colleges and universities, and bold new programs for regional economic development."

Clevenger succeeded veteran Congressman Victor A. Knox, Republican, of Sault Ste. Marie. His prospective Republican opponent in the Nov. 6 election is Philip E. Ruppe, Houghton businessman and banker, who is unopposed to date for the nomination in the Aug. 2 primary.

Rev. Freiburger To Be Honored On Sunday

WELLS—St. Anthony's parish is planning a reception in honor of Fr. Norbert Freiburger's Silver Jubilee Sunday, June 5, at 7 p.m.

On that date, Father Freiburger will also be a week short of nine years as pastor here.

Born in New London, Wis., Dec. 30, 1914, Rev. Freiburger was one of 15 children—of whom 13 are still living—of Hadrian and Laura Freiburger.

Since their father's death in 1949, Freiburger's Garage (Dodge & Chrysler) in New London, has been operated by two of the brothers, William and Arthur.

After grade school a Most Precious Blood School, operated by the Sisters of St. Agnes, Fr. Freiburger entered Salvatorian Seminary at St. Nazianz, Wis., going on to St. Paul (Minn.) for philosophy, and St. Francis, in Milwaukee, for theology.

Ordained by Bishop Wagner June 7, 1941, he was named to assist at St. Ignatius Loyola parish, Houghton, moving to St. Patrick's, Escanaba, in 1944.

Named administrator of Sacred Heart parish, Painesdale, in 1946, he moved to Blessed Sacrament parish, Stambaugh, Dec. 11, 1951, as pastor, and to St. Anthony's, just outside Escanaba, June 12, 1957.

Hanna Plans More Pellets

Production of high grade iron ore pellets, the prime raw material for the steel industry's blast furnaces, will double in the next three years and probably will continue to increase after that, W. A. Marting, president of Hanna Mining Co., said in New York this week.

"Ten years ago there was practically no pellet production anywhere. Last year more than 42 million tons were produced in North America. Three years from now the figure will be doubled, to more than 80 million tons," Marting said.

By early in 1968, he said, "Hanna Mining will operate pellet capacity in North America capable of turning out 17½ million tons of pellets a year." At the same time, he declared, Hanna will be studying new pellet projects, "for we think the demand for pellets will continue to rise."

Hanna now is building three new U.S. concentrating-pelletizing plants, two in Minnesota and one in Missouri, with steel companies as partners and at Carol Lake in Labrador, its Iron Ore Co. of Canada pellet capacity is being expanded to 10 million tons a year by early in 1967.

Hanna Mining operates its only Michigan pelletizing plant at the Groveland Mine at Randville in Dickinson County.

Mineral Industry Boom

In 1964 Upper Peninsula iron ore mines produced 13.9 million tons of ore worth $144.4 million.
In 1965 our production was 13.4 million tons valued at $144 million.

We had slipped.
The decline and expiration — at the end of 1965 — of the Gogebic Range as an iron producer made a major contribution to this slippage, along with the general decline of the old shaft mines producing natural ores.

But these figures fail to show a near miracle of economic recovery in the iron business of the Upper Peninsula. With a world revolution in iron production underway, squeezing out the old lean ores like the Gogebic's, the U. P.'s Menominee Range has remained in production and the Marquette Range has achieved a boom.

Pelletizing has taken up the slack created by expiring natural ore business to such an extent that it constituted 54 per cent of iron shipments from the U. P. in 1965, compared to 47 per cent in 1964.

In a little more than 10 years iron production in the U. P. has grown from 9.7 million tons to 13.4 million tons and values from $69.2 million to $144 million. That's terrific in anybody's league.

In copper production the gain is even more spectacular.

In 1954 the U. P. produced 44.7 million pounds worth $13.2 million and in 1965 the figures (preliminary data) were 145.3 million pounds worth $51.7 million.

If anyone should ask how things are in the U. P. tell them that there's a mining boom.

Discipline Supported

When six Stambaugh High School seniors admitted they had been drinking alcoholic beverages at the home of one of their parents, the school board denied the students the right to participate in graduation exercises. The board said they would receive their diplomas, but not on the stage.

Parents of four of the six youngsters brought an action of mandamus in Iron County Circuit Court against the school superintendent, principal and board of education in an attempt to nullify the board's decision.

Following a trial that consumed two full days, Circuit Judge Ernest Brown of Iron Mountain upheld the action of the school authorities and ordered the case dismissed.

What is surprising is that the parents intervened in the first place. There are some disciplinary actions involving teen-agers that parents cannot invoke. Denial of participation in graduation exercises is one such action. The school board very properly decided to exercise its authority in this instance, thus actually helping the parents impose discipline on their offending sons. Instead of taking legal steps to upset the disciplinary measures of the school authorities, the parents should have welcomed the action by the board. To do otherwise is to condone illegal acts by teen-agers.

As Judge Brown said, "School authorities clearly have a right to impose disciplinary measures for conduct outside of school which brings discredit to the school and which is offensive to commonly accepted community standards of moral behavior for young people."

Finding The Way

Grace Lights Load

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

The tractor-trailer rounded the curve and then it happened. There was a terrifying scream of brakes, the crash of the crumpling monster as it toppled on its side and the roar of the metal as it hurtled from its trailer-bed and scattered across the highway. The driver was killed. What had happened? As nearly as the investigators could determine, the load of steel had shifted as he rounded that curve and the driver was unable to hold the truck to the road.

It's that sudden shift of the load that usually causes the trouble. That was Simon Peter's problem. He was doing well, covering the highway, until he rounded the curve of public criticism. Then he denied that he had ever known Jesus. Analyze it any number of ways, it is simply a shifting of the load which caused his life to lose momentum at a critical juncture.

Or here is the young couple who spill out their sad story of trouble and discord. "We were so very happy until he changed his job," she says. Then the familiar story of the rift, the breaking of promises and the wreckage that came when the load shifted.

Since most persons have to be prepared for these sudden shifts of the load, what can be

U.P. Mineral Industry Booms

Iron, Copper Lead Parade

Mineral industry in the Upper Peninsula took a huge forward stride in 1965 was 13,475,000 long tons compared to 13,972,251 in 1964, and value was $144 million compared with $144.4 million in 1964, because of the spectacular increase in pelletized ore industry, particularly on the Marquette Range.

Total iron production in the Upper Peninsula slipped in 1965 from the 1964 level, but shipment of concentrates (pellets) continued to increase and accounted for 54 per cent of the total iron ore shipments, compared with 45 per cent in 1964.

Closing of the last Gogebic Range iron mine at the end of 1965 cancelled that contribution to Michigan's mineral industry.

come, but U. P. iron ore production in 1965 was 13,475,000 long tons compared to 13,972,251 in 1964, and value was $144 million compared with $144.4 million in 1964, because of the spectacular increase in pelletized ore industry, particularly on the Marquette Range.

Copper Boom

All of Michigan's iron and copper are produced in the Upper Peninsula and the U. P. contribution to state mineral income, which was 31.7 per cent in 1964, and which slumped to 28.7 per cent in 1965, rose dramatically to 37.4 per cent of the state total in 1965 with the resurgence in iron and copper mining.

The comeback of copper and iron mining as major elements of Michigan mineral industry has been the sensation of that part of the economy in recent years.

In 1954 the U. P. produced 44.7 million pounds of copper valued at $13.2 million. With White Pine Copper Co., producing at its mine and smelter in Ontonagon County, these figures leaped to 113 million pounds worth $35.2 million in 1965. In 1964 the figures were 137.7 million pounds worth $44 million and in 1965 (preliminary data) production was 145.3 million pounds worth $51.7 million.

Petroleum Slips

The Upper Peninsula contributions to mineral industry also include large volumes of limestone and dolomite for steel making, chemical industry and construction usages, sand and gravel and other minerals.

Lower Peninsula contributions include cement, up 3 per cent in 1965 over 1964, limestone, chemical brines, petroleum, down 4 per cent, sand and gravel, clay, salt and gypsum.

Marquette, according to information supplied by John Byerly of the Conservation Department's Geological Survey, Lansing to Jim Kent, of the Department's U. P. Geological office, is the No. 1 mineral industry county in Michigan because of its iron ore production.

Marquette's mineral production rose from $28.1 million in 1954, when it ranked 2nd among the counties of the state, to $31.6 million in 1959, when it ranked fourth. In 1964 it ranked 1st and its production had risen to $92.8 million.

County Figures

Because limestone and dolomite figures are not disclosed by the Conservation Department, the figures for Mackinac and Chippewa counties' mineral industries are lacking. The other U. P. county mineral products report for 1964 include:

Alger $69,000.
Baraga $44,850.
Delta $170,146.
Dickinson $17,810,073.
Gogebic $11,577,472.
Houghton $6,458,909.
Iron $23,633,730.
Keweenaw $3,096,025.
Luce $40,000.
Menominee $781,171.
Ontonagon $35,426,926.
Schoolcraft $71,000.
The total U. P. mineral products value in 1964 was $203,840,282.

Draft Is Not Loaded

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There's a lot of nonsense written about the draft these days.

For one, it's charged that the draft is loaded against the poor and that it favors the well-to-do and rich.

Negroes are allegedly discriminated against. That is, it is claimed that a higher percentage of Negroes than whites are being taken into the armed forces.

The facts don't back up these allegations.

The Census Bureau reports that Negroes account for 11.7 per cent of the 18-through-25-year-old males in the United States.

But in all 1965, Negroes accounted for only 11.3 of those taken into the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

In the last half of 1965, the Negro percentage eased to 10.4 per cent.

The percentage of Negroes in the armed forces has been rising steadily. Negro enlisted men accounted for 13.4 per cent of the Army total at the end of 1964 and the percentage is still going up.

But that's because the first-term re-enlistment rate of Negroes in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines is phenomenally high. It's more than twice the first-term re-enlistment rate for white soldiers.

For example, Army figures show that in 1965 first-term white re-enlistments were running at 18.5 per cent, Negro at 49.2 per cent. Negro-white first-term re-enlistment ratios are comparable in the other services.

As a result, Negroes are moving into a proportionately large share of the staff sergeant, sergeant and corporal slots in the Army, the staff sergeant rank in the Air Force and the corporal and sergeant ranks in the Marines.

Draft critics often refer to those deferred to go to college as the privileged well-to-do.

But the statistics indicate that for every young man deferred for schooling, three are excluded from service for inability to pass the mental or physical tests.

Indications are that the bulk of these rejects come from the underprivileged sections of the population.

Not all do, of course. But then not all college students come from well-to-do homes.

Then, too, some of those deferred for college attendance are drafted after they graduate.

The draft, in fact, is set up to draw in the deferred students once they're out of school. Inductions are from the top down, beginning at age 25. That is, available 25-year-olds are taken first, before the 24-year-olds, and so on down to 21, 20, 19 and 18½-year-olds.

But of course, some young men find ways to keep on going to school past age 25. Some marry and have children before 25. Some get essential jobs. These men may miss being called.

But if the forces in Viet Nam and the draft calls are expanded, then the less-serious or less-able students are going to become liable for drafting.

Freshmen who don't stay in the upper half of their class, sophomores who don't stay in the upper two-thirds, juniors who don't stay in the upper three-fourths may turn out to be vulnerable unless they take the Selective Service college qualification test and get 70 or better. Things will likely tighten up for graduate students, too.

10 Years Ago

Construction of an attractive new bottling works for the Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Delta County was started on its property at the southeast corner of 11th Ave. N., and U. S. 2-41.

Nick Jaeger admired a display in Carnegie Public Library announcing the opportunity which Escanaba area people would have that summer to attend the Damascus School of Fine Arts at Holy Name High School. The school would be operated for six weeks in July and August under the direction of the Rev. Fr. Robert Jelliffe.

Mr. W. L. Miller, mental health advisor to the warden of the Ohio penitentiary in Columbus sent me an article from an A. A. pamphlet which he received recently from the British Isles.

Here are some excerpts. It may give some of you the encouragement you need to attend that first meeting.

"Alcoholics are lonely people. They are denounced, ridiculed, damned, coddled and cajoled by their friends and families. They are tolerated, shunned and ignored by the public. They are questioned and observed by psychiatrists. Their loved ones plead with them, lie about them and threaten them. They are preached to and prayed over by the clergy.

"Yet all of this tumult has no effect on the alcoholic's drinking. His only source of solace and comfort is the bottle. There he finds companionship and release from his loneliness. There he finds courage to retaliate against those who infringe on what he believes are his rights. In the bottle he finds at least temporary release from his worries and fears.

"For this temporary release, the bottle demands a big price. It demands his time, his money, his self-respect and often his job; his home, his family and his friends. When the alcoholic can no longer meet the demands, the bottle leaves him to the mercy of his craving, his poverty, and his self-pity.

"Defeated and afraid, the alcoholic comes to his first A. A. meeting. There he stands at the crossroads of his life — alone

Hall Wants Tour Of Red Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. Communist party leader Gus Hall has applied to the State Department for permission to visit Red China, North Viet Nam, North Korea and Cuba, a spokesman said today.

Hall's application has set off arguments within the State Department. Some officials are for and some are against giving him permission.

The State Department has a general ban on travel to Communist-controlled areas of Asia and to Communist Albania and Cuba.

Court To Hear Morals Cases

Two men charged with morals offenses will be arraigned Monday by Judge Bernard H. Davidson when the June term of Circuit Court for Delta County opens at 10 a.m. in the courthouse.

Dr. G. H. Bast, 55, of 1015 1st Ave. S., was bound over by Circuit Court by Municipal Judge James Fitzharris on three counts of statutory rape. William J. Leach, 20, Old State Rd., was bound over by Justice A. J. Mortier of Gladstone after preliminary hearing on statutory rape and indecent liberties charges.

Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapekis said both cases will be brought into court, although neither appears on the Court Calendar prepared by Clerk William E. Butler.

Bast was charged with raping three sisters who were 12, 13 and 15 years old at the time of the offenses. Leach was arrested and charged after a party earlier this year at a cottage near Nahma. Two teenage girls from Escanaba are involved.

The two morals cases are the only criminal arraignments scheduled for the term. Eighteen civil cases have been placed on the jury calendar, including State Highway Dept. proceedings to settle disputed payment for nine parcels of property on the proposed route of the four-lane U. S. 2 and 41 improvement from Gladstone to Rapid River.

The Highway Dept. proceedings will be heard by a panel of three commissioners appointed by the court. Commissioners are Charles Sedquist, John Walsh and Richard Juetten.

The Highway cases are expected to be scheduled for hearing next week. The jury for the term has been ordered to report to the courthouse Monday, June 13.

Also included on the calendar are 19 non-jury civil cases, six of which are divorce actions. There are 21 no progress cases still calendared and nine actions set for pre-trial hearing this term.

Fire Destroys Inman Home

MANISTIQUE — The two story home of Frank Inman, River Road, was destroyed by fire early this morning.

Mrs. Inman awoke, smelling smoke and aroused her husband and daughter, Stella, 18.

The downstairs was engulfed in flames when they arrived at the head of the stairs. The stairs lead close to the back entry and the three got out through heavy smoke, barely escaping injury. The house and contents were destroyed.

The Manistique Public Safety Department was called at 1:40 a.m. by the Green School Fire Unit which needed assistance.

The fire was believed to have been started by lightning. Electrical circuits in the area were put out by the storm and caused the delay of assistance by failure of telephone circuits.

Industry, Labor Invited To

Help Schooling For Jobs

UPCAP's Human Resources Committee has moved to involve industry and union labor or more actively in the big new effort to improve vocational education in the Upper Peninsula.

The effort is currently one of the major movements in public schooling under guidance by the State Department of Education. It aims to substitute for the old fashioned "manual arts" type of putting with carpentry a schooling that will provide commercial job skills.

The current effort has been stimulated by education's concern that more than half of Upper Peninsula high school graduates do not go on to college but their high school courses are shaped for such continuation of schooling and leave them ill prepared for the world of work.

Participation Sought

UPCAP's Subcommittee on Vocational Education and Occupational Training conducted the Friday meeting at the State Office Building, Escanaba, with William Christian of White Pine Copper Co., chairman, presiding.

Christian said that there had been no lack of invitations to industry to participate in state, regional and local efforts to improve vocational education, but that there had not been much participation to date. Ivan Brown, regional representative of the United Auto Workers, of Iron Mountain, said that a similar situation prevailed with labor.

Anton Kossi, Michigan Employment Security Commission, Ironwood, said more industry participation is necessary for an effective program.

William Wilson, executive director, Operation Action-U. P., and Christian will head an effort to get more industry involvement in the program, and Brown and Carl Anderson of Escanaba of the Harnischfeger Local of the UAW will head an effort for more union involvement in the work of the subcommittee.

Few Studies Finished

Robert Pangman, State Department of Education, Lansing said that 8 of the 34 study areas in Michigan had completed and reported their plans for vocational education to the Department, which will make recommendations on the subject when all the plans are in.

New legislation being considered would permit intermediate school districts to bond for vocational education facilities. They can only propose millage now.

Pangman explained that an area vocational education program need not be presented at an area vocational high school, but could be by cooperative agreement between school districts.

President Richard Rinehart of Bay de Noc Community College, which has completed the only U. P. vocational education study—the Menominee-Delta-Schoolcraft counties area—said it recommends that the existing vocational education program be expanded by cooperative arrangement among the high schools.

U. P. Reports

The Bay College study also urges that such studies include real research and thinking on local vocational education problems so that each study committee will be free to recommend forcefully, even where it goes contrary to the guidelines of the State Department of Education. (As in the matter of bussing of vocational students, which the Bay study recommends and which the State Department does not propose.)

Reports from the other U. P. Vocational Education Districts: Donald Wachter: Marquette-Alger, study report due in fall. K. J. Mollanen: Gogebic-Ontonagon, fall report.

Lawrence Varda; Keweenaw-Houghton-Baraga, study plans drawn, study work not started.

UPCAP Role

Varda: Dickinson-Iron, study report ready in a few weeks.

Pangman: Chippewa-Luce-Mackinac, report of study in fall.

The committee agreed that after the U. P. studies are completed UPCAP (Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress) should coordinate the results and help plan intensive follow-up action.

The committee said vocational education programs should stress need for more effective vocational counseling and guidance and it asked the State Department of Education, the intermediate school districts and other agencies of concern, to put greater emphasis on it and to have the colleges and universities train more counselors for comprehensive programs, including in-service training.

Chinese Purge Hits Peking 'U'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China hinted today the country's current purge of dissidents might strike down even some of Mao Tse-tung's closest and oldest comrades.

An editorial in the official Peking People's Daily showed the purge had swept up the Chinese capital's mayor, Peng Chen, once considered a possible successor to Mao.

Peking announced Friday Peng had been replaced as first secretary of the Peking Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party.

The People's Daily provided the accusation against him: "Some leaders of the former Peking municipal party committee were not Marxist-Leninists but revisionists."

The purge is described officially as a "great Socialist cultural revolution." It previously swept up Teng To, once a leading spokesman for Red China as editor of the People's Daily, and Wu Han, vice mayor of Peking.

Besides the removal of Peng Chen, Peking also announced that the Peking party committee second secretary had been replaced and that the president of Peking University had been sacked. A special "working team" of party members was told to clean up the Peking University Communist party committee.

Ore Stockpiles Less Than '65

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The American Iron Ore Association said Friday 32,087,676 gross tons of iron ore were stockpiled at iron and steel plants in the United States as of the end of April.

This is slightly less than the amount in inventories at the same time last year.

The association said Great Lakes shipments of iron ore are running ahead of last year's shipments.

Shipments were reported at 9,614,302 tons, compared to 9,018,420 for May, 1965. For the first five months, shipments from upper lakes mines totaled 14,907,065 tons, compared to 11,808,262 for the first five months last year.

Public Invited To Meet School Board Candidates

The League of Women Voters will interview two candidates for the Escanaba Area Public School Board at a voters' information service program to be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the Chamber of Commerce building.

At the election to be held June 13 one of the men will be elected for a term of four years.

The candidates are Carlton R. Olsen, incumbent, board president, seeking a second term; and Marvin Marshall, U.S. Forest Service staff forester, a resident of Escanaba for seven years.

All registered voters in the Public School Area — Escanaba city and the townships of Wells, Cornell and Ford River — are eligible to ballot on June 13.

The public is invited to the Monday night meeting.

Two Positions Opened In City

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey is presently interviewing applicants for two major positions in municipal government — controller and engineer-planner.

The employment of a city controller will fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank Bourke, who has accepted a position with Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

"I am in the process of receiving applications and hopefully will be in a position to arrive at a decision within a couple of weeks," City Manager Harvey reported to the City Council.

The engineer-planner position is partly new, at least in title. Escanaba is launched on a planning program that is expected to require the services of a planning engineer for at least several years.

The city manager said that he is interviewing candidates for the position and that additional applications are expected.

Harvey also reported to the Council that on June 9-10 the annual conference of the Michigan Municipal League will be held in Menominee. The manager and some members of the Council are expected to attend.

A special session on labor relations will be held as part of the conference.

"The effects of recent changes in the state labor law, including collective bargaining and negotiations with public employees, will be discussed in detail, along with other pending employer-employee legislation," Harvey reported.

In other news of municipal affairs, the city manager said that the Michigan Waterways Commission has approved the city's request for a state grant to construct a rest room-harbor attendant building at the yacht harbor.

Final plans and specifications are being prepared in order that bids may be taken in the near future. The manager said he hopes the project can be started by the first of July.

Cost of the structure is an estimated $20,000 with the city's share $10,000. The remainder will be financed by a grant from the Waterways Commission, whose funds come from taxes on marine fuel and boat license fees.

Make it Special... it's for DAD

Don't you think Dad is getting tired of the shirts, ties and shorts every year? Well, as a Dad, let me assure you that we are. Give us a break, this year, give us something we'd really like . . . here's a few suggestions . . .

Ideology Fight Stirs Turks In Voting Sunday

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — The troubled Turks, locked in an ideological war that has sharply divided the nation, will show Sunday how they view the conservative leadership of Prime Minister Suleyman Demirel's Justice party.

The Justice party is dominant in peasant Anatolia as the heir of the now outlawed Democra party of the executed Premier Adnan Menderes. It is the heavy favorite in elections for 50 seats in the 185-member Senate.

Political experts predict Demirel's candidates may win as many as 30 Senate seats. The major opposition, the Republican People's party of former Prime Minister Ismet Inonu, may take about 15, with splinter parties dividing the remainder under proportional representation.

As in most Turkish elections, the senatorial campaign has been marked by bitter wrangling, name calling and charges of "extremism" — both left and right. The Cyprus question was shoved into the back ground.

Demirel defended his legislative program, which has all but come to a standstill because of opposition tactics in the National Assembly.

The prime minister, 41, has painted a rosy future for the Turks, provided the nation can forget the past and pull together.

The opposition parties criticized Demirel's rule since the Justice party took power last October, lashing out particularly at his handling of bread-and-butter issues and his attempts to change the electoral laws to favor smaller parties.

Demirel also has been accused of selling out the country to capitalists and foreigners and of using the Moslem religion to turn Turkey away from the reformist principles of Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, the nation's first president.

The 80-year-old Inonu labeled the Justice party the "caravan of guilt" — an obvious reference to Menderes who was toppled by the 1960 army revolution and later hanged for crimes against the constitution.

Plan Appeal To Supreme Court For Jack Ruby

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attorney for Jack Ruby has asked the Supreme Court for a stay of a sanity hearing scheduled June 13 in Dallas, Tex. Ruby received a death sentence for slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, identified by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

The request filed by William M. Kunstler, New York City attorney, also asked for a stay of all state court appeal proceedings pending the filing of an appeal to the Supreme Court from the denial of a writ of habeas corpus for Ruby in Texas.

The state of Texas will have an opportunity to file a reply before the matter is submitted to Justice Hugo O. Black.

CHARLES E. BRANCH, executive vice president of the Dow Chemical Co., Midland, will deliver the commencement address June 11 at Michigan Tech's 79th June commencement. There will be 484 candidates for 471 degrees, with seven seniors scheduled to receive two degrees each. An honorary Doctor of Laws degree will be conferred on Branch, who graduated magna cum laude from Western Reserve University, Cleveland, in 1937 and joined Dow shortly thereafter in Midland.

Dodd Hearings Begin June 20

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee will start hearings June 20 into charges about the relationship of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd to Julius Klein, a Chicago public relations man.

Sens. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., and Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, chairman and vice chairman of the bipartisan committee, said in a statement late Thursday that "the initial hearings will be conducted in executive session, to be followed by open hearings."

The committee is investigating misconduct charges against Dodd, a Connecticut Democrat, by columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson. Dodd, denying the charges, has filed a $2 million libel and conspiracy suit against the columnists.

Stennis and Bennett did not say who the witnesses would be or how long the closed hearings would last before testimony is taken in public.

The committee announced on April 29 that its initial hearings would deal with charges that Dodd had acted as "an errand boy" for Klein, a registered agent for West German business interests, and in return for expensive gifts and other favors had used his position to help Klein hold onto his clients.

Bark River

The Rheume-Knauf American Legion and Auxiliary will hold their regular monthly meeting Monday, June 13 in the Community Hall. The Auxiliary sold poppies on Poppy Day to purchase needed articles for the patients in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Iron Mountain. Mrs. Helen Mellon of Lansing, Ill., is visiting for a week with relatives in Garden and Seney.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Preston of Green Bay visited at the LeRoy Winter home Monday.

GOP Groups Declare Political War Against John Birch Society

LANSING (AP) — Republican State Chairman Elly Peterson declared the John Birch Society "an outlaw from decent, responsible politics in Michigan."

The state's three largest county GOP organizations declared "political war" against the society and said it threatens "a blatant grab for power."

Mrs. Peterson said Birchers have filed in numbers for precinct delegate seats in Macomb, Oakland and parts of Wayne counties.

"The district (GOP) chairman who had been previously willing to believe the Birchers meant what they said about working in the area of education find now they are interested in a takeover," she added.

Very Real Threat "It is a very real threat to the Republican Party."

District chairmen from the three counties met Thursday night in Detroit and today issued a declaration that "there is no place in the Republican Party" for the John Birch Society.

Mrs. Peterson said she did not think the Birchers could win control of the district organizations even if successful in the Aug. 2 election of primary delegates.

"We are not prepared to say we will lose anything," she said, but acknowledged she has no power except persuasion in the struggle.

Birchers have not filed in significant numbers in outstate areas, she said.

Strongest Yet She said the society represents "a way of life foreign to both Republicans and Americanism. They have tried to muddy the name of conservatism."

The district leaders are expected to campaign hard on a precinct-by-precinct level to defeat the Birch candidates.

Precinct delegates meet at county party conventions and in turn select delegates to the state convention. The state convention nominates some statewide candidates and writes a party platform for the November election.

On Central Committee One member of the Republican State Central Committee, Gerald Spencer of Flint, announced some months ago he was a member of the society. Leaders denounced him but were powerless to remove him from office.

Ultraconservatives under Richard Durant in the 14th District of Wayne County have for some time opposed party leaders.

Isabella Darrell Asplund was honored on the occasion of his 14th birthday with a party Sunday at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Sundin. Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. John Moberg of Detroit, Jonas Sjoqvist, Darlene Asplund and Mrs. Asplund.

Police Sergeant and Mrs. Frank E. Berlette of Wakefield, Mrs. Aldena Cintari of Caspian were Memorial Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sundin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sundling of Detroit spent the weekend visiting relatives and friends.

Jack Little of Aurora, Ill., was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lake.

Mrs. Donald Levine, Laurie Ann and Dennis of Pontanna, Wis., visited with her mother, Mrs. May Nedreau.

Albert Pilon has returned to Rhinelander, Wis. where he is employed.

Robert Forburt and children of Green Bay visited over the weekend at the home of his mother, Mrs. Arthur Larchied.

The ladies of the Bethany Lutheran Church met Wednesday at the Emily Larson home to sew quilts for Bay Cliff Health Camp.

25 Years Old MUSKEGON (AP) — Silver anniversary operations of the SS Milwaukee Clipper begin June 10 when the vessel starts a new season of runs across Lake Michigan between Muskegon and Milwaukee, a distance of 85 miles. The 361-foot clipper has a capacity of 900 passengers and 120 autos.

Clean Up Wastes DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has announced it will spend $1.6 million for new facilities to clean up factory wastes dumped into the Rouge and Raisin rivers.

Half Of Nation ZIP Code Users Immediate steps to make ZIP Codes more accessible to the mailing public were announced today by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien.

The measures are being put into effect following a nationwide poll which showed that while virtually every American — 96 per cent — is familiar with ZIP Code, further action should be taken to make it easier and more convenient for the public to know the ZIP Codes they need for letters and packages they send through the mail.

The Postmaster General said that:

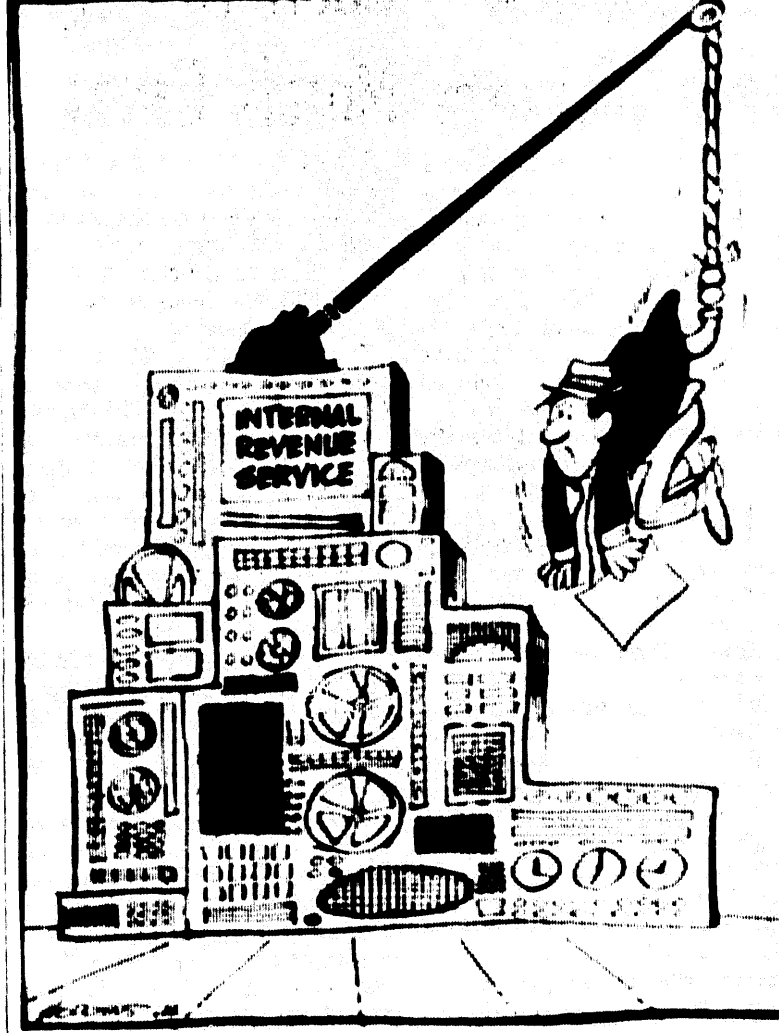

1. In the coming months carriers will deliver to every household in the nation a form to be filled out with a list of the addresses most used in correspondence by members of the family. The Post Office will supply, without charge, the ZIP Codes for each mailing address on that list.
2. Instructions are being issued to all postmasters to arrange to supply ZIP Code information by telephone on a regular basis during normal business hours, and to have a special listing for ZIP Code information in the telephone directories of the larger cities.
3. The telephone industry, including the Bell System and independent companies, will start putting improved ZIP Code maps and information in prominent easy-to-find places in the Yellow Pages of telephone directories published throughout the country. The directories will come off the press late this summer.

4. The Department's new Executive Planning Board will begin immediately exploring other means of making ZIP Codes more easily available to the public.

The poll, conducted by Elmo Roper and Associates, found that about half of the population is using ZIP Code. Of the remaining half who are not ZIP Coding their mail, 80 per cent said the reason was that they didn't know the ZIP Codes for the people to whom they write.

"The free ZIP Coding of lists of most frequently used addresses for personal correspondence should help to increase significantly the use of ZIP Code," O'Brien said. "This extra service will make it easy for individual mailers to include ZIP Code as part of the accepted routine in addressing letters."

Watch Out For The Other Guy

Maybe you're a good driver. Many drivers aren't. So why put yourself at the mercy of some other guy's mistakes? Better to drive defensively. And expect the unexpected. After all, nearly half the drivers in fatal collisions are good drivers, and in the right. But being in the right isn't enough. You could be dead right.

New Milk Law To Encourage New Products

More variety in dairy products and development of new dairy specialties tailor-made to tastes and diets will be in prospect after Michigan's new milk law goes into effect July 1.

Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture said "The new law provides milk processors with the opportunity to develop such products as whipped light cream, sour or cultured half-and-half, Grade A powdered milk, and Grade A milk concentrates. The former milk law and regulations did not provide for marketing many of these desirable products."

While processors will have leeway in developing new products, consumers will also benefit through the sanitation and labeling requirements of the new law, said Ball. "The entire history of milk for bottling will be under strict supervision of our dairy inspectors. They will inspect wells, barns, and milk handling and storage facilities on farms, trucks for hauling, transfer stations, processing plants and retail outlets. All fluid milk for bottling will be Grade A under the new law."

The familiar "Fortified Milk" label will apply only to milk with multiple vitamins and minerals under the new law, and use of a "Vitamin D" label has been authorized for milk with the single vitamin added.

St. Stephen's Church School

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will hold a Vacation Church School for children including 3 and up. The school is scheduled for the week of July 25 through July 29 and classes will be conducted from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Guild Hall.

In order to obtain materials and supplies names and ages of children should be registered by June 26. To register call Rev. Helmer, 766-7970.

Social Club

Home League

Attend the Church of Your Choice

Who doesn't dream, sometimes? Who doesn't stand gazing into the future, picturing that new house, that graduation day, that wedding ceremony, that deluxe-model car... the thousand and one dreams that man holds in his heart?

We realize that a worthwhile life must contain more than just material satisfactions. Without a confident frame of mind, our future will be nothing but tension and uncertainty. Where can we find this inner feeling of courage that will make things easier for us every hour of every day?

Millions of people find it in the Christian faith. The apostle Paul said that he was strengthened in everything he did by faith in Christ... and this truth is constantly being rediscovered by men and women urgently in need of something they can trust.

Faith is the key to peace of mind. With faith, you will be able to move mountains of frustration.

Solo Homer Beats Angels

Horton Snaps Long Slump, Tigers Dream Of Pennant

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—Now that Willie Horton has started to emerge from the worst slump of his career, the Detroit Tigers are beginning to dream of an American League pennant.

Horton, a sensation as a rookie last year, had gone hitless in 29 at bats before he clouted a seventh-inning homer Friday night to carry the Tigers to a 1-0 victory over the California Angels.

It was the 23-year-old outfielder's first hit since May 17 when he slugged a homer against the New York Yankees.

"If Willie starts hitting, we can win the pennant," said relief specialist Larry Sherry, who hurled two shutout innings to save the victory for Hank Aguirre (1-3) over Marcelino Lopez (3-5).

The Angels are in no position to disagree with Sherry after suffering their fourth straight loss and dropping back to .300 (23-23) for the first time since April 29. The defeat knocked the fifth-place Californians 6½ games behind the American League leader, Cleveland.

The Tigers, meanwhile, have won three straight and trail Cleveland by just 2½ games.

Horton came to Anaheim Stadium averaging .155, and the homer here was only his fourth of the season.

It's easy to see what he might mean to Detroit's pennant chances because last year he slammed 29 homers, drove in 104 runs and averaged .273.

Aguirre, who had only four hits, left the game in the seventh because of a blister on his pitching hand. Sherry allowed only one more hit.

Aguirre stamped out a series of threats by the Angels. California's leadoff batters in each of the first four innings reached base, and the Angels had two men on base in the first and fifth innings.

Aguirre walked the first two batters, Jose Cardenal and Jim Fregosi. But Rick Reichardt grounded into a forecourt and Joe Adcock bounced into a doubleplay.

In the fifth inning, Cardenal reached third with two away on a single, a stolen base and a throwing error. Fregosi followed with a walk but Reichardt killed the rally by grounding into a forecourt.

Al Kaline got three of the Tigers' seven hits.

It was the fourth defeat in a row for the Angels and the first shutout California has suffered in Anaheim Stadium.

The Tigers planned to pit their ace righthander, Denny McLain, who has an 8-2 record, against George Brunet, a native of Michigan's Copper Country, in their game tonight. Brunet has a 2-3 record.

Jim Ryun

Ryun To Run In Spotlight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The drawn many world prominent athletes. Jim Ryun of Kansas and Jim Seigren and his most consistent rival, John Pennel, are entered in the pole vault. Other world champions include discus thrower Ludvik Danek of Czechoslovakia, long jumper Ralph Boston, and steeplechase artist Gaston Roelants of Belgium.

The rivalry between 19-year-old Ryun and 29-year-old Grelle dates back to 1964 when Ryun, then in high school, defeated the Oregonian for the third spot on the Olympic team for the 1,500 meters.

It was Ryun again in the mile in the National AAU over both Grelle and Peter Snell last year at San Diego, Calif., and just last May 13 the kid from Kansas beat the veteran at two miles for an American record in the Coliseum Relays.

The two will attempt to break the world record of 3:55.6 held by Michel Jazy of France.

Meet promoters said George Young, America's best steeplechase runner, has volunteered to run as a pace-setter in the mile and hopes to clock off 2:56 for the first three-quarters.

The 5,000 meters has a cast that includes little Gerry Lindgren and Chris Westman of Washington State, Geoff Pyne of UCLA, Tracy Smith of Pasadena, Calif., and Rick Riley, Spokane, Wash., high schooler.

NEW YORK (AP)—They call him The King. It could be that the complete handle — Kauai King — is a little difficult. It's pronounced "cow-eye."

It's more likely that he got the title because of his position among the 3-year-old thoroughbreds. At the moment he is the king. No question about it.

He won the Kentucky Derby. He won the Preakness. He's won eight and finished second once in 10 starts this year. But, strangely, he doesn't have anyone scared.

He faced the biggest field of challengers in 12 years this afternoon in the 96th running of the Belmont Stakes, the last leg on the Triple Crown.

Should he win, the Maryland-bred son of Native Dancer would be only the eighth horse in history to sweep the Triple Crown, and the first since Citation in 1948.

And his value would be that of a king's ransom. The $117,700 that goes to the winner from the total purse of $161,450 would be a pittance.

His owner, Mike Ford of Omaha, Neb., already has turned down an offer of $1.75 million for syndication of the colt by a group of Kentucky horsemen.

He has turned down another offer of $2 million from another group from Virginia and Maryland.

Many of the players said the 6,448-yard Colonial Country Club course was harder to beat Friday. But Nicklaus was happy with its condition.

Little, who lost playoffs in the Memphis Open in 1960 and 1962, played more consistently than anyone else during the first two days. But he wasn't satisfied with the second round.

Ben Hogan, who has had 60 galleries each day, shot a 69 Friday to go with his 71 and was one of 77 players to survive the cut.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—You could have expected defending champion Jack Nicklaus to be concerned about overtaking the leaders on the 17th green, but an unusual thought crossed his mind.

Nicklaus has never shot a 63 in the United States, and he had a chance to do it in the second round of the $100,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament Friday if he could birdie the last two holes.

At that point, he was trailing Bert Yancey and Gene Littler who carried eight-under-par 132s into today's third round.

Nicklaus reached the short 17th hole in one and was 10 feet from the pin.

"As I looked at it, I realized I had never shot a 63 in the states," he said. "My putt pulled up short, and I went on to birdie 18 for a 64."

It was his first 64 since the third round of the 1965 Masters. That left Nicklaus with a 136 — four strokes off the pace.

Yancey, first day leader at 63, shot a one-under-par 69 Friday, but was tied for the lead by the veteran Littler who shot a 66 for the second straight day.

Jack Rule had a second-round 68 for a 36-hole total of 135, followed by Bruce Devlin, Johnny Pott, Bob Goaly, Tommy Jacobs, Wright Garrett, Honoro Blancas, Bob Charles and Nicklaus at 136.

Mets Turn On Tormentor, Beat Drysdale, Dodgers To Shake Losing Streak

By The Associated Press

Jack Fisher is a 24-game loser who pitches for the lowly New York Mets and can't beat Los Angeles. Don Drysdale is a 23-game winner who pitches for the world champion Dodgers and always beats New York.

Fisher took on Drysdale Friday night. It was a mismatch. Drysdale didn't have a prayer.

Fisher, 0-7 against Los Angeles in three National League seasons, shackled the Dodgers on three hits while the Mets, 2-18 against Drysdale over a four-year period, cuffed him for five runs en route to a 6-2 win.

The victory snapped a three-game losing streak for the eight place Mets. The loss was only the second in the last 11 games for the second place Dodgers.

Fisher, now 3-5 this season, gave up a single in the second inning and then set down 20 straight batters before yielding another. Wes Parker homered for the Dodgers in the ninth.

The Mets knocked out Drysdale in the fifth. Ken Boyer's two-run homer capping a three-run rally that nailed the LA right-hander with his fifth loss in nine decisions.

Philadelphia whipped San Francisco 6-1 behind Jim Bunning. St. Louis held off Atlanta 3-2. Cincinnati came from behind for an 8-6 victory over Chicago and Pittsburgh battered Houston 7-2.

NEW YORK SLUGGED Boston 15-5. Cleveland edged Minnesota 6-5. Baltimore downed Kansas City 3-2 and Detroit nipped California 1-0 in American League action.

Bunning won his seventh in a row, scattering six hits, as the Phils snapped the Giants' five-game winning streak and extended their own victory string to five. Bob Uecker drove in three runs with a homer and squeeze bunt while Rick Allen and Cookie Rojas hit bases-empty homers.

Bob Gibson held Atlanta to two hits until the ninth, when Hank Aaron's 18th homer and a single by Felipe Alou drove him from the mound. Joe Hoerner came on and struck out Mack Jones, ending the threat.

Curt Flood had four hits for the Cardinals but was retired the first three times when Orlando Cepeda bounced into double plays, tying the league record. Flood's fourth hit, a triple in the eighth, knocked in Tim McCarver with what proved to be the winning run.

The loss was the seventh straight for the staggering Braves.

Don Pavletich's two-run double was the big blow in a five-run eighth inning rally that lifted Cincinnati past the Cubs, ending a six-game losing streak for the Reds.

The Cubs scored six runs in the sixth inning, two on Byron Browne's homer.

Jim Pagliaroni and Bill Mazeroski ripped successive homers in a five-run sixth inning rally that won for the Pirates. Woody Fryman, Pittsburgh's unbeaten rookie pitcher, scattered nine hits for his fourth victory.

NEW CRUSADER Football Coach Calls Meeting

Tom O'Neill, newly appointed head football coach at Holy Name High School, today called a meeting of all boys interested in playing varsity football next fall for Tuesday, June 7, at 7 p. m. at the Holy Name multipurpose room.

"I want all Holy Name boys who intend to try out for football to attend this meeting," the Moorhead State College graduate said.

O'Neill will succeed John Kirchner as head of the Holy Name football coaching staff. Kirchner resigned after one year at the position to accept a job at Archbishop Curley High School in Miami.

How Should Senators Know Lamabe Would Fire Second Straight Blank?

Mrs. Juskevitz Taken By Death

Mrs. Felix (Hulda) Juskevitz, 71, of Cooks, died at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital where she has been a patient for the past two days.

Mrs. Juskevitz was born June 3, 1894, in Joliet, Ill., and moved to Cooks when she was 17. She was the former Hulda Gustafson who married Felix Juskevitz in Manistique on Aug. 28, 1928.

Her only survivor is her husband.

Funeral services were held in Cooks cemetery today at 2 p.m. with Messier Broulliere Funeral Home in charge.

Harry Potter Is Retiring

Harry Potter, former Manistique resident is retiring this month from Muskegon public schools, where he is athletic director.

While a student at Western Michigan University he won four letters in football and baseball, in the 1920s. He was offered a St. Louis Cardinals contract, but declined.

He coached at Crystal Falls before transferring to Muskegon as an assistant to Leo Redmond. With the Big Reds since, he has compiled an enviable record as a coach.

His baseball team won 53 straight in a 5-year period in the 1940's. After succeeding Redmond he had success also with the football squad. In the 1950s he had two unbeaten teams in football, built on a theory of correct fundamentals consistently practiced.

During college years, when he was a star baseball catcher, Potter played semi-professional baseball here under William Dehut. He is a cousin of Norman Jahn.

FIRST AID STATIONS KEPT BUSY HERE

DOCTOR HAROLD Q. GROSS M. D. examines Ed Peacock, Crane Assembler, Truck Crane Plant No. 1. Supervising Nurse Clara Rublein R.N. assists the doctor while Welder Plant Machine Operator W. Jensen waits his turn for medical treatment.

Medical Treatment Rates High As Company Service For Employees

How would you like to have 1000 people a month knock on your door for help? The number may vary but there have been 30-day periods at Harnischfeger's Escanaba Medical Services Department when that number of employees visited the Company's 2 First Aid Stations for medical assistance . . . either as initial treatment cases or for revisits for secondary treatment.

To handle such a work flow you must have not only modern first aid equipment and facilities . . . but a specially skilled staff as well. Harnischfeger's medical service here has these features in full measure.

Doctor Harold Q. Gross M.D., longtime Escanaba physician and surgeon, administers the company's local medical service program and is assisted by another well known local physician and surgeon, Doctor Norman Lindquist M.D. Both men rely upon the help of 4 company nurses and 2 first aid technicians under the supervision of Mrs. Clara Rublein R.N., Nurse Supervisor.

Doctor Gross visits the First Aid Station at Truck Crane Plant No. 1 daily from 12 to 1 p. m. to give physical examinations and to consult with the nurses on occupational injury cases. He also confers with Howard Fontaine, Manager Personnel and Industrial Relations on matters of company medical service policy.

Doctor Lindquist visits the Truck Crane Plant First Aid Station on Tuesday of each week at 8 a. m. to treat employee eye, ear, nose and throat disorders.

Whenever extended treatment is required the doctors furnish a case history to the employee's family physician who then continues treatment on a private basis.

The 4 nurses and 2 first aid technicians who "mind the store" are Mrs. Clara Rublein R.N., 1st shift, T.C. No. 1, a 15-year employee; Miss Clarissa LaCrosse, R.N., 2nd Shift, T.C. No. 1, with the Company for 12 years; and Gary Soderman, 3rd shift Welder Foreman, who performs duties as a first aid technician for his shift at T.C. No. 1. Gary is a 15-year employee here.

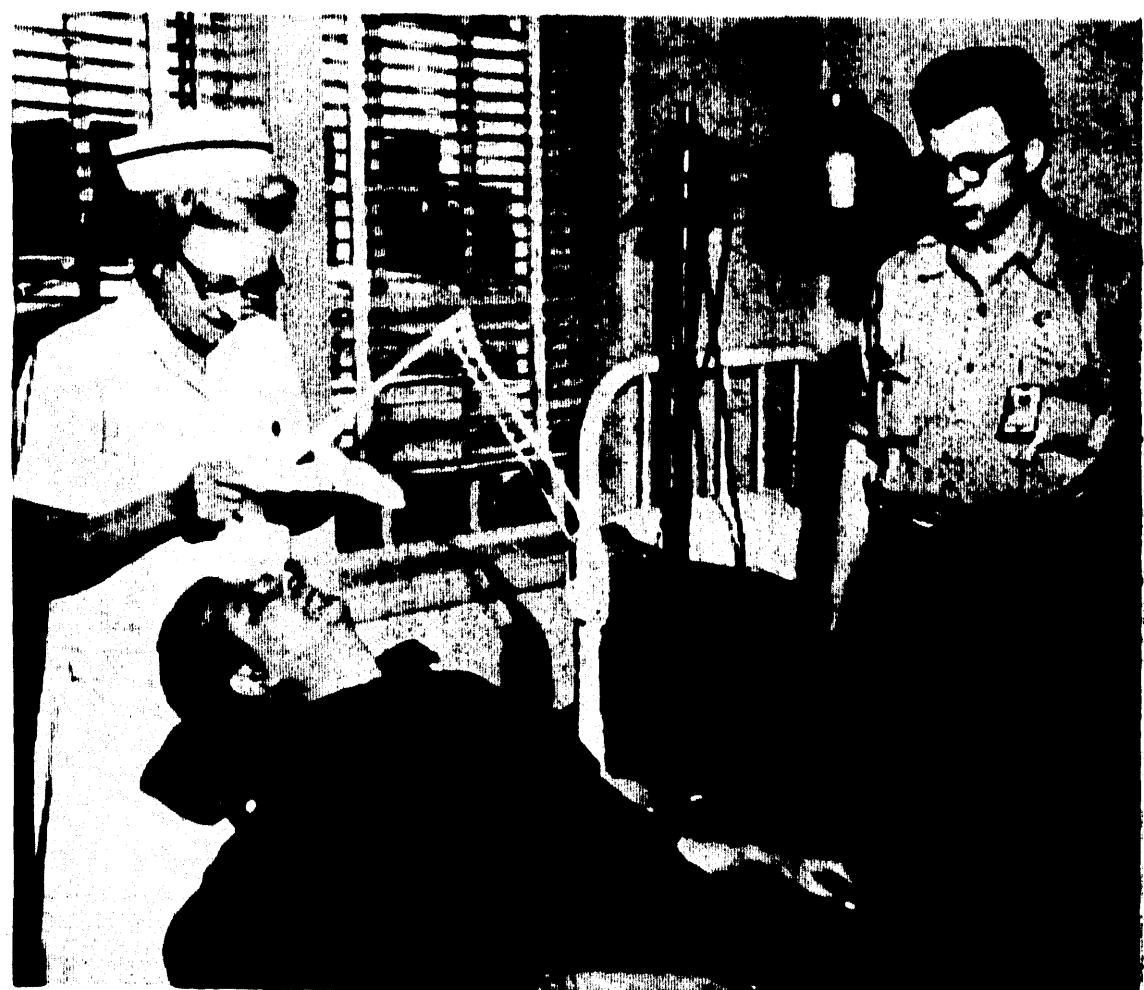

At the Welder Plant First Aid Station are Mrs. Mary Kinnie R.N., 1st shift, who has 14 years with Harnischfeger; Mrs. Ann Mayotte, R.N., 2nd shift, 4 years Company service; and Henry Barra, 3rd shift Machine Shop Foreman who, like Soderman, carries out his duties as a first aid technician for the people on his shift. Henry has been employed here for 15 years.

Harnischfeger's First Aid Stations, like their counterparts in most of today's industrial plants, handle not only patients . . . but paper as well. Supervisor Rublein estimates that her nurse group spends about 50% of their work time in recordkeeping on such matters as insurance claims and workman's compensation claims. "But we make sure this in no way interferes with the first aid services we offer employees here," she said.

One of the services offered to Delta County residents is the use of free blood through the Delta County Blood Bank. Clara Rublein R.N. stressed, however, that continual donations of blood by all county citizens, including employees of Harnischfeger's Escanaba operation, are necessary in order for this program to be continued.

EMPLOYEES' eye, ear, nose and throat cases are handled by Doctor Norman Lindquist M. D. shown here at his office. Doctor Lindquist visits the Truck Crane First Aid Station every Tuesday morning.

ALSO A BUSY PLACE is the First Aid Station at Harnischfeger's Welder Plant. Here Mary Kinnie R.N. examines the eyes of Don Priestler, General Machinist at the Welder Plant. Next in line for treatment is Ken Holster standing nearby. Ken is a Setup Man in the Coil Winding Department.

Suggestion Awards Total $691 For April; Pipe Protection Wins Highest Amount

Nine employees of Harnischfeger's Escanaba plants now have checks varying in amounts from $5 to $598 for ideas they submitted in April of this year. Total April suggestion awards, distributed last month were $691.

The highest award of $598 went to G. Sheldon Cobb, Material Handler Leader, Truck Crane Plant No. 1. He suggested a method of all-weather protection for steel tubing stored outside. Simple enough, his basic idea was to wrap the tubing with waterproof paper. This procedure eliminated the necessity for reconditioning the steel pipe prior to its use in the fabrication of crane booms.

The second highest award of $30 went to Noah E. Marcoe Jr., Magnet Frame Welder Assembly, Venus Building, who suggested eliminating degreasing of reactor legs as a separate operation. The legs will now be cleaned along with magnet frames on the rotary welder assembler line as one complete operation.

Melvin McDonald, Milling Machine Operator, Truck Crane Plant No. 1, won a suggestion award of $13 for his design of a new milling machine tool used in the machining of crane and crawler clevises. This new tool permits the use of standard carbide tooling rather than bar setups for milling radii in the bottom of the clevises.

The April suggestion award winners, including 2nd year winners, and their amounts are:

Raymond Robitaille	10.00
G. Sheldon Cobb	598.00
Noah E. Marcoe Jr.	30.00
Richard C. Delvaux	10.00
Albert Majestic	5.00
James Cretens	5.00
Melvin McDonald	13.00
Charles Gouin	10.00
George Jerow	10.00
Wayne L. Courier (2nd year award)	54.00
Donald J. LaPine (2nd year award)	1,021.00

Wire Feeders For Welding Operations Now Manufactured As P & H Product

The welding wire feeder, long an outside purchased part, is now another quality product designed and built at Harnischfeger's Escanaba Welding operations.

Shortly after the first of the year wire feeders were placed in production at the welding plant here, and results have been encouraging according to Welding Operations Manager Jack Williams. "Ever since its start as a manufactured product here, this item has shown a steady increase in sales. Considering its features we see no reason why this upward trend in sales should not continue," he said.

Probably the strongest feature of wire feeders of this type is their ability to feed continuous weld wire at the squeeze of a trigger. Instead of welding with a stick electrode and a holder, the operator using a P&H Wire Feeder works with a welding tool shaped like a pistol. When the trigger is squeezed, an unbroken line of weld wire feeds from the end of the "barrel." The frequency of stopping and starting is limited only by the part to be welded or by the limitations of the operator. The wire can be fed and consumed continuously.

There are slight variations on the four models now available, RF3, 4, 5 & 6, but basic function is the same. Each has a portable control cabinet which is removable . . . and each may be operated in vertical or horizontal positions on either AC or DC current.

Company Softball League Set For Summertime Showdown On Abilities

The season of sun, hot weather, game-delaying rains (and line drives) has arrived in Escanaba and six Company softball teams have moved out to the waiting diamond at Webster Park to turn practice into performance.

Formed as the Harnischfeger Softball league, the teams meet there in the traditional softball contest of pitching accuracy, batting skill, adeptness at snagging line drives in midair and keeping "the long, high ones" from touching ground at the fielder's feet.

Also perfected during a season of softball here (and anywhere else) is the player's ability to communicate to game officials his disapproving attitude regarding a particular play. his is called "yelling at the umpire."

Those teams at Harnischfeger's Escanaba plants who will display softball and vocal abilities this season are: Boom Bays, captained by Gerald Lancour; Dusters, captained by Bob Waeghe; Pickups, headed by Bob Wickstrom; Queens, headed by Ken Bruce; Third Shift, managed by Jon Servant; and T.C.2, managed by Bob Triest.

League play started Tuesday, May 10th and will end in September. Present standings show the Third Shift and TC2 tied for 1st place . . . Pickups in 2nd place . . . Boom Bays in 3rd and Dusters and Queens tied for 4th place.
